Submission Date	2026-03-03
Historical Experience Rating	4.2 / 5.0
Prepared for	Procurement Evaluation Committee (synthetic classroom exercise)

Executive Summary

Orbit Digital brings deep domain experience in procurement transformation, having delivered similar programs for numerous enterprise clients. Our proposal emphasizes proven outcomes and a strong support model over architectural novelty.

Proposed Solution

Our platform is built on a proven, configurable procurement suite used across our client base, with the evaluation workflow module tailored to this RFP's requirements. Integration with the customer's existing ERP landscape will be scoped during discovery; at a high level, we plan to connect via the ERP's standard API layer, though the specific integration pattern, data mapping, and real-time vs. batch approach will be finalized with the customer's IT team after contract signature.

Timeline & Team

Estimated delivery is 18-24 weeks, with exact phasing to be confirmed after discovery. The team will include a program manager and engineers drawn from our delivery bench, sized according to final scope. A standard risk log template will be used once the project kicks off.

Pricing & Assumptions

Estimated Total Cost of Ownership over 3 years: approximately $860,000, comprising roughly $230,000 implementation and $210,000 per year, pending final scoping. Pricing assumes a typical mid-size deployment; final numbers will be confirmed in a detailed statement of work.

Security & Compliance

Orbit Digital maintains enterprise-grade security practices in line with industry standards, and our clients include several regulated organizations. Data is encrypted in transit and at rest. Specific certification numbers and audit dates will be shared during contracting.

Support & References

Orbit Digital has delivered 22 procurement and vendor-management platforms over the past 7 years, spanning finance, healthcare, and the public sector. We are proud to offer 5 references from long-standing clients, several of whom have been with us for over 5 years, reflecting our strong track record on relationship management and support.
